
Company Policies Keeping Employees From Trying to Stop Thieves

KRLD Radio

November 17, 2009

KRLD Radio in Dallas interviewed Michael Kelsheimer on a gas station employee in Fort Worth who was fired for following some thieves who took five cases of Coors Light from the store. The employee, who had worked for the company for 23 years, was trying to get some information on the thieves' vehicle.

To listen to the interview, click here.

Michael's practice focuses on commercial and employment litigation. His experience as a former briefing attorney for the United States District Court coupled with his extensive experience in commercial and employment disputes has enabled Michael to successfully secure favorable verdicts and judgments in a wide variety of commercial cases for businesses and professionals engaged in multiple industries as well as the defense of all types of lawsuits. Michael's efforts have included cases involving race and sex discrimination, collections, deceptive trade, employment discrimination, fraud, fraudulent transfer, negligence, real estate titles, and enforcement of contracts in state and federal courts as well as through binding arbitration.