

Cary Gray Interviewed On The Right To A Trial By A Jury

KTRH Radio

March 30, 2009

Houston media have recently been reporting on the case of Assistant District Attorneys who recently struck several Black jurors. Harris County District Attorney Pat Lykos was presented with this information, and she reprimanded the Assistant District Attorneys. Now a local civil rights group is calling for them to lose their jobs.

KTRH News Radio's Michael Berry interviews Gray Reed & McGraw attorney Cary Gray on the "right to a trial by your peers" concept; what it is, and what we think it should be.
