
Five Ways to Protect your IP in a Startup

Houston Business Journal

February 24, 2015

Starting a business has its fair share of challenges, from finding capital to figuring out a name, but one of the most important things on the checklist should be protecting your intellectual property.