

Tips for IRS Audits: Be prepared

The Ambulatory M&A Advisor

September 21, 2015

Everybody has the uneasy feeling that the IRS will one day send that notification that they or their company have been selected to be audited. Though this may be a daunting experience, lawyers and Certified Public Accountants give some tips for IRS audits on medical businesses. The discuss why the IRS would want to look into a healthcare business, and how to deal with the resolution of an audit.