

Gray Reed Elects New Shareholders

March 1, 2016

Gray Reed & McGraw is proud to announce the election of three new shareholders. Attorneys elected include Travis Crabtree, Preston Kamin and Gabe Vick.

Travis Crabtree focuses his practice on technology, media and marketing from the Houston office, with an emphasis on media communications, online defamation, privacy, domain name disputes, policy and governmental compliance, software licensing and audits, copyrights and trademarks, and related transactional documents for start-ups and technology companies, along with commercial litigation. Prior to earning his J.D. from the University of Houston Law Center, Travis spent several years in television news. He completed his undergraduate education at the University of Missouri.

Preston Kamin practices commercial litigation out of the firm's Houston office, focusing on oil & gas, real estate, employment disputes and product liability claims. Preston earned his J.D. from South Texas College of Law. He attended the University of Texas for his undergraduate education.

Gabe Vick, a civil litigator in the firm's Houston office, focuses his practice on complex commercial cases. His experience includes breach of contract, product liability, personal injury, toxic tort, class action, employment, premises liability and maritime claims. Gabe earned his J.D. from the South Texas College of Law, and attended Texas A&M University for his undergraduate education.
