

Gray Reed Adds Appellate Lawyer to Waco Office

May 1, 2019

Gray Reed is thrilled to announce the addition of Of Counsel Greg White to the firm's appellate practice. White is the firm's first hire in Waco since announcing the opening of a Waco office in January 2019.

Board Certified in Civil Appellate Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization, White has more than 30 years of experience handling appeals in State and Federal Courts. He has been lead counsel in more than 50 reported cases, including a number from the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit – where he argued a case en banc – and the Supreme Court of Texas. His cases involved business disputes, civil rights, election laws, personal injury, intellectual property, criminal law, and real property. He was appointed counsel on two death penalty cases, both of which received substantial media attention.

In addition, White is a full-time faculty member at Baylor University School of Law specializing in legal writing and teaching courses in the Law School's Legal Writing Center.

He earned his J.D. from Baylor University School of Law in 1982.
