

Coleman Appointed to Institutional Advancement Task Force

July 7, 2010

Joe Coleman was appointed by Baylor University President, Ken Starr, to the Institutional Advancement Task Force. The task force brings together a small group with historic ties to Baylor who will collaborate to identify a set of specific, highly practical suggestions focused on moving the university forward quickly in its institutional advancement goals.

For more information on the task force, go to:

<http://www.baylor.edu/pr/news.php?action=story&story=76392>

Joe Coleman, a Member with the firm of Gray Reed & McGraw, has over 50 years of experience in real estate and oil & gas law. Since his admission to practice law, he has participated in all areas of a successful general law practice, including transactional matters and litigation. He earned a bachelor of business administration degree from Baylor University in 1955 and a juris doctor degree from Baylor Law School in 1957. As a law student, he served on the board of editors for Baylor Law Review.