

GRAY REED[®]
ATTORNEYS & COUNSELORS

A WOODWARD WHITE COMPANY

TRUSTS & ESTATES

Planning the accumulation, management and transfer of wealth in the most tax-efficient manner involves development and implementation of strategies across a broad spectrum. Gray Reed attorneys provide a full range of estate planning and probate services as well as fiduciary litigation.

In addition, estate planning today requires comprehensive knowledge of other areas of the law, particularly when working with family offices and business owners. Our estate planners work synergistically with the firm's other attorneys in such areas as family law, business law, taxation and real estate.

ESTATE PLANNING

The firm's estate planning experience includes the preparation of wills and trusts, family partnerships, limited liability companies, grantor retained interest trusts, qualified personal residence trusts, sales to intentionally defective trusts, charitable trusts, life insurance trusts, prenuptial agreements, disclaimers, qualified terminable interest trusts, qualified domestic trusts, offshore trusts, private annuities and other planning devices.

We have extensive experience in the design and implementation of complex estate and business plans for our individual and corporate clients. An effective estate plan must consider the various types of lifetime and testamentary family asset transfers that are designed to shield a family's wealth from taxation, while also accomplishing certain non-tax family objectives. As trusted counselors, our attorneys help their clients and families benefit from available estate planning techniques and to preserve family wealth for the future, as well as help individual and corporate executors and trustees administer decedents' estates and trusts efficiently and cost-effectively.

TRUSTS & ESTATES LITIGATION

When an estate is fought over, our fiduciary litigation attorneys help trustees, executors and beneficiaries resolve a broad range of estate and trust disputes, many of which involve complex and sophisticated issues.
